

TRIO OF MANORS OF THE LITHUANIAN HIGHLAND

Manors of Rokiškis, Ilzenberg and Gačionys

The excursion will start by visiting one of the most interesting points – Ilzenberg Manor. The manor, rich with its history, recently has been revived for a new life. The manor is unique with development of biodynamic farming and growing of ecologic products in it. We shall have a walk around the manor and in the park. It will be available to purchase local production.

Next, we shall visit Rokiškis manor that is famous with a large ensemble of the manor of the counts Tiesenhausen, which has remained up to these days. We shall visit the Regional Museum established in the manor house and shall have a walk to the central square of the town.

The trip will be continued to Gačionys that house a unique and little known manor... The current wooden palace was built under the design of Jan Rosen. Values of the old manor were particularly damaged during wars. In 1990, the manor was returned to the baron Antoni Rosen. After extended restoration works one of the most stylish wooden buildings of the classicism style in Lithuania was revived. It is the only remained wooden manor in Rokiškis district and one of the most unique wooden manors of Lithuania.
